Mockingbird Tattoo Studio | Calgary, Alberta, Canada

Last updated: August 1, 2026

This Privacy Policy explains how Mockingbird Tattoo Studio collects, uses, stores and shares personal information when you use our website, contact us, submit a booking request or apply for a guest spot.

1. Who we are

This website is operated by Mockingbird Tattoo Studio, a tattoo and piercing studio located in Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Privacy contact: Studio Owner

Contact email: Mockingbirdyyc@gmail.com

2. Information we collect

Depending on how you contact us, we may collect personal information that you choose to provide, including your name, email address, phone number if you provide it, preferred artist, preferred date, service type, tattoo or piercing details, reference links, uploaded reference images, photos you choose to provide of the tattoo or piercing area for consultation purposes, Instagram or portfolio links, experience level and messages sent through our website, email, phone or social media.

For guest spot applications, we may collect information related to your professional background, portfolio, tattoo styles, availability, travel plans and related communications.

We may also receive basic technical information when you visit the website, such as browser type, device type, pages visited, IP address and information processed by our website hosting provider or third-party tools used to display the site.

3. How we use your information

We use your information to respond to inquiries, review booking requests, prepare for tattoo or piercing consultations, match you with the appropriate artist, review guest artist applications, communicate about appointments, maintain studio records, protect website security and comply with legal or regulatory obligations.

4. Consent

By submitting information through our website, contacting us directly or communicating with us through social media, you consent to our collection, use and disclosure of your information for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy.

Our website forms may ask you to confirm that you have read or agree to this Privacy Policy before submitting information. You may withdraw consent where legally allowed by contacting us. If you withdraw consent, we may not be able to provide certain services or respond to a request.

5. Booking, piercing and guest spot forms

Our booking and guest spot forms ask for information needed to review your request. For tattoo booking requests, our website may ask you to confirm that you are 18 years of age or older. Piercing age requirements may depend on the service requested and studio policy. If a minor is involved, a parent or legal guardian may need to provide consent and participate in the process before services are considered.

Please do not submit sensitive health information, government identification, payment information, private documents or intimate images through the website unless we specifically ask for them through a secure and appropriate process.

If we later use a third-party booking, payment or form-processing platform, information submitted through that service may also be handled under that provider's privacy policy.

6. Email storage and sharing information

Website booking requests, guest spot applications and related communications are sent to and may be stored in the studio's email inbox using Gmail, a service provided by Google.

We may share your information with studio staff, tattoo artists, piercers, guest artists or contractors when needed to respond to your request or provide services. We may also share information with website hosting providers, email providers, form-processing tools, scheduling tools, payment processors, professional advisors or authorities where required by law.

We do not sell personal information.

7. Third-party services

Our website may use or link to third-party services, including Google Fonts, Google Maps links, Instagram, Font Awesome, jsDelivr and SweetAlert2. These services may process technical information such as your IP address, browser details or interaction with embedded content, loaded assets or links.

When you open third-party links or embedded content, their own privacy policies and terms apply.

8. Cookies and analytics

Our website code does not currently include advertising cookies or analytics tracking. However, third-party services such as fonts, content delivery networks, social media links or Google Maps links may process technical information or use cookies or similar technologies when loaded or opened in your browser.

9. Marketing messages

We may contact you about your appointment, inquiry, guest spot request or studio-related communication. We will only send marketing or promotional electronic messages where we have consent or are otherwise allowed to do so by law. You can ask us to stop sending promotional messages at any time.

10. Retention

We aim to keep personal information only as long as reasonably necessary for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy, including communication, appointment records, business administration, dispute prevention, insurance, tax, legal or regulatory requirements.

Because booking requests, guest spot applications and related communications may be stored in the studio's Gmail inbox and business records, some information may be retained for ongoing business, legal or record-keeping purposes unless deletion is requested and we are legally or reasonably able to delete it.

When information is no longer reasonably needed, we may delete, anonymize or securely dispose of it.

11. Security

We use reasonable administrative, technical and physical safeguards to protect personal information from unauthorized access, loss, misuse, disclosure, copying or modification.

No website, email service or electronic communication method is completely secure. Please avoid sending highly sensitive information through ordinary web forms, email or social media unless we specifically ask for it through a secure and appropriate process.

12. Access, correction and privacy complaints

You may contact us to request access to the personal information we hold about you or to ask us to correct inaccurate information. We may need to verify your identity before responding to a request.

Privacy questions, access requests and complaints may be sent to the Studio Owner using the contact email listed in this policy. If you are not satisfied with our response to a privacy question or complaint, you may contact the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Alberta.

13. International processing and storage

Website booking requests, guest spot applications and related communications are sent to the studio email inbox using Gmail, a service provided by Google. Google may store and process this information on servers located outside Alberta and Canada, including in the United States.

As a result, this information may be subject to the laws of the jurisdictions where it is processed or stored, including lawful access by courts, law enforcement or government authorities in those jurisdictions.

Other service providers used by our website, email, hosting, maps, fonts, content delivery networks or social media platforms may also process or store information outside Alberta or Canada.

14. Changes to this policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. The updated version will be posted with a new "Last updated" date. Continued use of the website after changes are posted means you accept the updated policy.

This policy is written in plain language for website and client inquiry practices. It should match the studio's actual internal process before publication.
